

Correct Application of Single Use Band Tourniquet

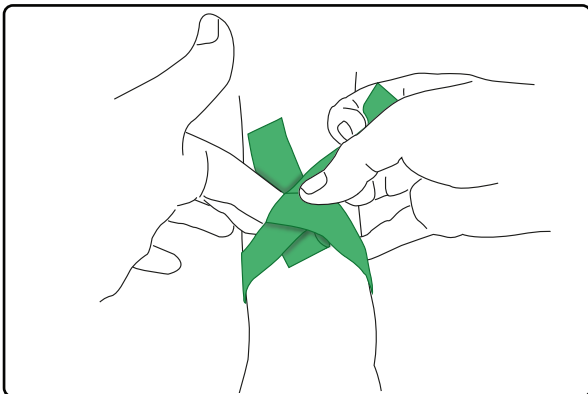

- 1 Tear one tourniquet from the roll at the perforation. Stretch the tourniquet and position the stretched tourniquet behind the arm, above the location where you wish to draw blood.

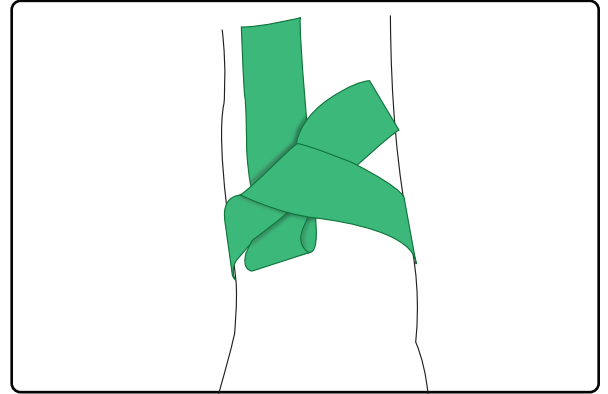

- 2 Keeping the tourniquet tightly stretched, to ensure sufficient compression, bring both sides across the arm and hold tightly where the two sides of the band meet.

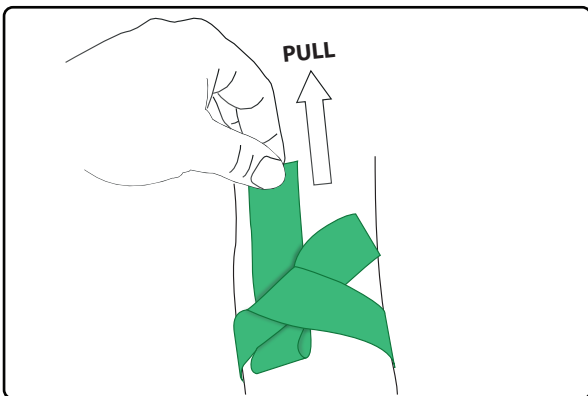

- 3 Keeping the tourniquet tightly stretched, tuck one side of the tourniquet under the other side - DO NOT TIE INTO A KNOT.

- 4 Remove your finger. Ensure that the ends of the tourniquet are pointing upwards (in a 'Rabbit Ears' fashion) to avoid obstructing the needle.

- 5 After the procedure has been completed, remove the tourniquet by pulling the tucked end upwards in a short rapid motion. This medical device and tie method has been designed to allow single hand release.

Always 'tuck' the tourniquet
Never 'tie' in a knot
